

Music with Mar.
unFROGettable Birthday Parties

Music with Mar. birthday parties cost $150 for 45 minutes. In order to book a party, child must have attended at least one music class. This is to guarantee that the child likes the music.

The party includes any activities from Music with Mar. classes. If a parade is requested, it is done at the end of the music activities. The children march around the house and to the birthday table, where they sit down for cake. (This puts all the instruments back in one place and has them seated for food/cake.) At this time, the instructor sings "Mr. Froggy's hOppy Birthday Song". Sometimes parents purchase kazoos and Happy Birthday is played on kazoos. (See pricing for additional items.) Parents can purchase a Download Card so each person can go home and download the songs from the party.

Music activities should start 15 minutes after beginning of party (ie. invitation says 10; music starts at 10:15). This prevents the children from becoming involved in other activities. At that point, it is difficult to get their attention.

All parties are indoors and should be in a room, which is free of distraction (toys, etc.). Parents should know that they are going to participate with their child in the activities. Adults should also be told that if they want to stay and watch, they should keep talking to a minimum so as not to disrupt the music and the children's attention.
